Music Intent

At Endsleigh Holy Child, it is our intention that children gain an understanding of what music is through listening, singing, playing, evaluating, analysing, and composing across a wide variety of historical periods, styles, traditions, and musical genres.

Through the teaching of music, we aim to ensure that all of our children

- develop a curiosity for the subject,
- understand and accept the importance of all types of music, and an unbiased respect for the role that music may express in any person's life
- recognise that music can represent different feelings, emotions and narratives
- participate in a wide range of musical experiences which develop their confidence
- understand the value and importance of music in the wider community
- are able to use their musical skills, knowledge, and experiences to involve themselves in music, in a variety of different contexts.
- are able to perform, listen to, review and evaluate music
- learn to sing, create and compose music
- understand and explore how music is created, produced and communicated.
